

Free training sessions on the planning system

Learn more about the planning system through our series of free online training sessions taking place from January to March 2026. These sessions are open to individuals and communities across Scotland and will focus on issues linked to community-led planning and renewable energy developments.

community-led planning renewable energy developments

Local Place Plans Placecheck offshore wind climate & community-led plans creative community engagement the electricity network community feedback community benefits & renewable energy

Reserve your place

<https://bit.ly/pas-training>

 Jan–March 2026

 Online